BRITISH EMPIRE IS IN "MORTAL PERIL," CHURCHILL STATES

Gravity of Situation is Unequalled Since Fall of France, He Says

COMMONS IS INFORMED

Makes No Attempt to Disguise Seriousness of The Situation

LONDON, July 2.—The British empire is in "mortal peril" and the present gravity of the situation is unequalled since the fall of France, Prime Minister Winston Churchill told the House of Commons today.

Replying to a series of attacks upon his conduct of the war, the Prime Minister deprecated the current debate as a "time waster" and castigated his critics as "muck-rakers."

"It is most difficult," he said, "to concentrate my thoughts upon this debate and withdraw them from the tremendous and most critical battle now raging in Egypt."

"And any moment, we may receive news of grave importance."

Churchill made no attempt to disguise the seriousness of Britain's position in Egypt, where Gen. Sir Claude Auchinleck and the British Eighth Army are attempting to hold back the Nazis from the Nile.

Already, Churchill revealed, Britain has lost upward of 50,000 men in Libya, plus a great mass of material, "large quantities of which have fallen into enemy hands. Most of the 50,000, Churchill said, were taken prisoner."

On the night before the fall of Tobruk, Churchill revealed, Auchinleck cabled to London to the effect that the Libyan seaport was adequately garrisoned and supplied for a 90-day siege. In spite of this, the town fell within 24 hours.

Churchill put the seal of official confirmation upon what everyone else in Britain and the United States has suspected—that the loss of Tobruk overnight was a development anticipated by no one.

LATEST NEWS BULLETINS

Axis Drive Through Egypt is Halted

Cairo.—The headlong eastward drive through Egypt by Axis mechanized forces was halted today 70 miles west of Alexandria after the Germans and Italians were smashed back by the British defenders.

The British Middle East High Command announced that its forces based on El Alamein had repulsed heavy attacks by Axis armored units.

It was disclosed that the German and Italian mechanized units during the course of day-long battling yesterday made a temporary break in the defense line of the British Eighth Army but subsequently were driven back.

The British communiqué said that fierce battles continued throughout yesterday and that the results of the combat were "not unfavorable" to the defending forces.

(The Italian High Command claimed in a communique broadcast from Rome that Axis forces had captured El Alamein yesterday. A Berlin broadcast of a German news agency dispatch asserted that the Germans had broken through El Alamein positions and were "pursuing the Eighth Army which is retreating toward the Nile Delta.")

(Editor's note: The break-through referred to by both Rome and Berlin probably is the same mentioned by the British. The Axis says nothing, however, about the fact that the Germans and Italians later were driven back.)

Probing Army Transport Crash

Dayton, O.—Four army officers from Patterson Field, comprising a preliminary board of investigation, were in Welch, W. Va., today to probe the crash of the army transport which cost the lives of at least 21 men.

The plane, en route to an undisclosed destination from Patterson Field, was on "an army mission." Patterson Field officers could not determine at once the number of men on the plane.

Berlin (By official German wireless)—Germany lost 337,342 officers and men during the first year of fighting on the Russian front, a special announcement from Adolf Hitler's headquarters said today.

Blondes Losing Out; No Longer in Preferred Class

STATE COLLEGE, July 2.—Perhaps gentlemen no longer prefer blondes. According to applications received by the Independent Women's Association dating bureau at the Pennsylvania State College, a slender brunette who dances well and is a good conversationalist is the ideal date.

Girls shouldn't pay too much attention to the advice to be a good listener, as the men defined a good conversationalist as one between the constant chatter and the unadulterated listener.

Of 79 male applicants, 21 rated conversational ability as essential, 17 demanded good dancers, 17 requested brunette dates, 16 voted for slender, 14 asked for a talkative date, 13 said the date should not be too quiet, 12 objected to too much make-up, and 10 condemned snobbishness.

Only seven votes each were given to beauty, a sense of humor, and intelligence; five favored good figures and five "a reasonable amount of reserve;" four ruled out smoking and two ruled out wearing glasses. Three voted for blondes and two for red-heads.

Co-ed applicants rated height as a virtue, with 26 of the 64 specifying it. Twenty-two requested good conversationalists, 12 stressed good manners, 11 asked for a sense of humor, and 11 preferred brunettes.

Ten co-eds objected to conceit, three to drinking, one to cigars, and one to glasses.

Nine preferred good-looking men and four each asked for good physiques, athletes, or non-hateful men. Three specified serious men and two each named neatness, blond hair, and sincerity as requirements.

FARMERS OF BUCKS COUNTY HAVE DIFFICULTY IN HARVESTING CROP OF HAY, DUE TO THE DAMP, RAINY WEATHER; LONG TIME CURING

Difficulty in harvesting their hay crop has been experienced by Bucks County farmers, due to damp and rainy weather.

In some instances farmers have found it necessary to let the grass lay in the fields for several days so that it might cure properly.

National Farm School, near Doylestown, however, was rather fortunate in harvesting its hay crop last week because between the showers men and boys on the farm were able to get in what was considered a fairly good crop in spite of the fact that the grass was rather short. This was due to the drought early in the Spring.

A large amount of mixed hay was harvested at Farm School last week, and in the near future the timothy hay will be ready.

The pickup baler was used in harvesting the crop at Farm School. It was pointed out that by bailing the hay it was possible to conserve space in the hay barns.

In the upper end of the county, where there was more rain this season, the hay crop was somewhat bet-

FOUR SUITS AND 2 LIBELS IN DIVORCE STARTED IN COUNTY

Appeal from Justice of Peace, and Action in Assumpsit Also Begun

CASES ARE LISTED

Sum of $1525 Claimed by C. H. Schrantz, Executor of An Estate

DOYLESTOWN, July 2.—Four suits, two libels in divorce, an appeal from a J. of P., and an action in assumpsit, have been begun in the Court of Common Pleas here.

Claiming the sum of $1525, Charles H. Schrantz, executor under the last will and testament of Charles Flexer, deceased, has named Edward Matthias Petersen and Ida Alice Petersen the defendants in an action in assumpsit.

The plaintiffs, who live in Springfield township, aver that May 1st the defendants agreed to pay $1725, paying $200 at that time, leaving a balance of $1525, for some real estate.

The plaintiffs further agreed that May 25th they were willing to turn over the deed and real estate for $1525, but the defendants, also Springfield township residents, refused.

Appealing from a judgment in favor of the plaintiff, Anthony Cusamane, 415 East Oak street, Norristown, the defendant, Vister G. Ecker, Street Road, Warminster, has begun an action in the Prothonotary's office here.

Justice of the Peace David E. Applegate, of Churchville, rendered a judgment of $93.80, with interest from August 18, 1941, making a total of $111.67, in favor of the plaintiff, Cusamane.

The action followed a claim growing out of an automobile accident August 17, 1941, at Bustleton Pike and Street Road.

THURSDAY, JULY 2, 1942
REGISTRATION COMPLETED

With the signing of the 18 to 20 year group, every male in the United States has been registered for possible service with the exception of boys 17 years old and under and of men 65 years or more old.

None in this youngest group of registrants will be called for induction until he reaches the age of 20, unless Congress revises the Selective Service Act. Moreover, since those in the fifth registration will be given numbers at the end of the lists of previously issued order numbers, classification of the new group by local boards is not expected to begin until all previous groups have been classified.

Although official releases concerning this fifth registration make no mention of the chances of Selective Service revision, there is a growing conviction that youths in their upper teens will not be exempted from service much longer. Among them are young men of fine physique, quick and accurate reflexes, and a venturesome spirit. The Army is reluctant to see this group of potential first-class soldiers go unused.

Nevertheless, popular sentiment might be sufficient to keep them out of the camps until they reach the age of 20 were it not for one thing. Washington is beginning to doubt the possibility of a quick victory. Estimates of the war's duration have been revised upward until they now range from five to 10 years, depending upon the course of events in the next six months. Since within recent weeks there has been a change for the worse in the position of the United Nations, the prospect of a long war must be faced.

The logic of events, therefore, justifies the view that if the war lasts more than a year, boys of 18 to 20 years will be inducted, at least for training before being assigned to active duty. In the early stages of the conflict manpower was secondary. Organization, mechanized equipment, bold strategy—these things determined the margin of victory or defeat. As the fighting has spread to new theaters, each with extended fronts, manpower has assumed its old importance.

Infantry is needed not only to storm positions in the wake of planes, tanks and artillery fire, but also to hold occupied areas. Nor will the fact be overlooked that men taken into training in their early years make the best pilots. There is a cry for more recruits for the air force, and officers are looking enviously at bright young men in the schools and colleges as material for future fliers.

That is to say, boys who now are 16 or 17 are likely to find their talents in demand a year, or less than a year, from now. Only a sudden turn in the war, leading to swift victory for the Allies, can change this picture. In a long-drawn-out conflict every nation is compelled to dip into sources of manpower both above and below the age group normally subject to military service.

Many a Victory gardener who started out to be a vegetarian has decided that his enterprise will be a failure unless he can harvest the rabbit crop.

For years Americans have been advised to relax and lack of tires may soon make acceptance of the advice compulsory.

Some of those Congressmen who voted to continue the WPA may be on it after the next election.

for the morning period, ending at one o'clock, reached a total of $119.50.
This was the official report turned in when the noon-hour program ended yesterday at the McCrory store, the brief but impressive ceremony having as its theme "Buy Bonds—and More Bonds."

Borough groups were represented in the numbers announced by the master of ceremonies, Percy G. Ford; and during the period no merchandise was sold at the McCrory store—the only items changing hands then being war bonds and stamps. At the bond booth, opened yesterday for the duration of the war, Howard Thornton, assistant postmaster of Bristol, assisted by Mrs. Thornton, sold bonds. Also at the bond booth was Ruth Daniels, an employee of McCrory's store. At strategic points throughout the store other sales-girls stood ready with stamps, attending to the wants of customers anxious to do their part in the all-out war effort.

Patriotic recordings were heard prior to the main program; with Mr. Ford leading those gathered in singing of group songs of a patriotic nature. The invocation was by the Rev. Fr. Paul Baird, of St. Mark's R. C. Church; and the benediction was pronounced by the Rev. W. E. Preston Haas, pastor of Bristol Methodist Church.

Color was added to the occasion by the presence of Corporal Charles Yeager, of Co. C, 722nd Military Police, U. S. Army, from Philadelphia headquarters. Corp. Yeager, who was introduced to the assemblage, displayed a Thompson automatic gun.

The trio of men who spoke briefly during the program were: Dr. J. Fred Wagner, president of Bristol borough council; Harold VanKirk, Bucks County War Bond and Stamp Sales Committee representative; and Jacob C. Schmidt, Jr., past commander of the Ninth District, American Legion, and who also represented Robert W. Bracken Post, No. 382, American Legion.

Mr. Schmidt, the first speaker, expressed pride in having part in such a program, a program that is backing the United States Government in its battle to aid the oppressed peoples of the earth. He extended appreciation to A. H. Queen, manager of the McCrory store here, and his staff, and to the executive office in New York, for aiding in the bonds sale effort, this type of work being carried out in all McCrory stores.

Dr. Wagner, president of borough council, stated that: "Buying bonds will help greatly in winning the war. Let's get together and work hard, for our pennies are going to work for us if we put them to work in the right way."

Mr. Ford also introduced Mr. VanKirk, chairman of the county bond sales committee. Stating that the sale of both bonds and stamps has thus far been phenomenally successful, Mr. VanKirk advised "however, that the task is a great one, and that by September 1st many more bonds and stamps must be sold. "If by September 1st the sales are not successful to a certain extent, those in charge of bond sales must then resort to other means to promote the war. It is much better to have a voluntary effort, than to use legislative means to back a compulsory savings plan."

Continuing, Mr. VanKirk said: "This is the people's war. Make no mistake about it." He then recalled how in the 11th and 12th centuries religious wars were fought; in the 18th and 19th centuries, political wars; while today a world revolution is taking place to decide in favor of an economic democracy. "I urge that you accept your responsibilities and support the government to the end. We will be victorious, not only in the war, but in the peace that comes out of it."

Mr. Ford also addressed the gathering briefly, telling that "You're fighting for your very existence, and your own way of life. Buy bonds—buy all you can—then buy some more. It's your fight and my fight, and we're going to win it."

At the end of the hour, 12 to one o'clock, it was announced that the bond sales had totalled $1,100; while morning stamp sales reached $119.50.

The flag-decked booth, filled with bond-buying slogans, will remain just inside McCrory store main entrance until the termination of the war. This will afford residents an opportunity to easily buy stamps and bonds while in the shopping area.

ON THE SCREENS

GRAND THEATRE

Sabu, who is starred in the role of Mowgli in Alexander Korda's Technicolor production of Kipling's "Jungle Book," which starts a run at the Grand Theatre on Friday, was born in the Karapur Jungle, forty-five miles from the city of Mysore in Southern India. His father, Sheikh Ibrahim, was a mahout in the service of the Maharajah. But the father died when Sabu was a small child and the Maharajah paid him a pension of two rupees a month.

Sabu became a sensational screen star when he was discovered by Korda in this jungle and was given the title role in "Elephant Boy."

BRISTOL THEATRE

Leslie Howard, Mary Morris, Francis Sullivan and Hugh McDermott play the top stellar roles in "Mister V," the suspense-packed melodrama at the Bristol Theatre today. It unfolds its dramatic action in present-day England, on the Swiss border and inside Nazi Germany.

upon Chic Young's comic strip family, the new comedy is concerned with the advent of a little stranger, a baby girl named Cookie.

Faith Clarke's SHOPPING TIPS FOR BUDGETEERS

"VICTORY EXPRESS!" That's the name of the thirteenth little go-to-market gadget the war has produced. You "wheel your own," as it were, and save the delivery man's tires. Besides, it's a handy thing for us folks who often patronize the cash-and-carry grocery stores, anyway. Children like taking them when they go on errands. The "Victory Express" is a wooden frame with wheels upon it, to which is fastened a leatherette bag (removable) in which to lightly wheel along innumerable packages. It itself weighs only 2½ lbs., and is grand. Snellenburg's 3rd fl. Housewares Dept. Well worth $1.94.

FLATTERING SWIM SUITS: Whether you swim or merely bathe, and whatever your figure, you'll find one of these particular suits most flattering. They are one piece and come in an elastic rayon satin jersey that adjusts itself to your lines. Gorgeous colors. Little swing skirts and molded bras, adjustable straps, comfy cotton jersey linings and panties. Unbelievably $2.98. Other interesting models in that $2.98 group, too. 2nd fl. Bathing Suit Dept., Snellenburg's.

DELIGHTFUL GLASSWARE: The design is new and most refreshing—an apple design. Jolly large pitchers—I have an idea they hold two quarts—and six generous glasses form a set which costs only $1. They are all so frosty looking that one can almost hear frosty ice go "clink, clink!" I noticed three colors and plain frosty white—pink apples (delicately lovely), blue, red, and plain frost white. Take your choice. I like the frost white and the pink. 3rd fl. Glass and China Dept. at Snellenburg's, too. There's a circular enameled rack, also, very swank, holding eight of these apple glasses. All for $1.19.

SUMMER QUILTS: Floral batiste quilts are cool looking, yet just warm enough for suddenly chilly nights. Snellenburg's 2nd fl. Quilt Dept. has some at reasonable prices for the good, fluffy quality that is most desirable—$4.95 each. The "stuffing" is nicely felted cotton and the coverings can be had in white, pink or blue grounds over which are scattered old-fashioned blue or pink rose bouquets. The quilts measure 72x84 ins. and serve for double or single beds.

FIRE! The call of "Fire!" will not sound so often in a house where many of the fabrics are flame-proofed. This is especially true in regard to such treatment of sheets where a house has a problem of a bed smoker. Draperies and glass curtains should be flame-proofed as a matter of course. It can be done by mixing the starch with this particular liquid sold in Snellenburg's Housewares Dept., 3rd fl., at $1.25 a gallon. It looks exactly like water, leaves no coating, is absorbed by a material, is odorless. There is no mixing. It is ready for use when bought. Ask about it at the Black-eat Counter.

COLORFUL MEALS are always the most interesting and stimulating to appetites. A tablecloth is most important as a contribution to gaiety. Each household should have several bright designs for summer. Even a lovely cloth will grow monotonous if seen too often. I suggest dropping into Snellenburg's 2nd fl. Table Linen Dept. and seeing two tables of gay cloths priced at $1 to $3.50 and $1.85 to $9.50. The pretty things measure from 52 ins. square to 63x108 ins. Some are spun rayons, and others good heavy muslin, and all are interestingly hand blocked or printed. Buy some while you can get them.

P. S. When buying, do say, "I read about it in Faith Clarke's Shopping Column." That helps me to get more good news for you from the shop folks. Faithfully, FAITH.

CAPRIOTTI'S TRIPLE AIDS TEAM TO TIE

A triple from the bat of "Army" Capriotti aided St. Ann's to earn a 1-1 deadlock with the Diamond team last night on St. Ann's field in a Bristol Suburban League tilt.

Capriotti's blow was good for three bases but he continued home when Goodwin fumbled the ball. The blow came off Mike DeRisi in the sixth and wiped out a 1-0 Diamond lead.

"Hokey" Leighton made his first appearance in the local circuit for several seasons and took up mound duties for St. Ann's and succeeded in holding the Diamond boys to a quartet of safe hits. He fanned nine batters, and did not issue a pass.

Opposed to Leighton for Diamond was Mike DeRisi who had a shutout in his grasp before Capriotti took one to his liking and walloped it for his game-tying triple. Mike struck out six batters and again did not give up a pass. DeRisi has not passed a batter in the four games he has pitched.

St. Ann's had six safe blows off DeRisi and two of these went to Capriotti. Of the four hits made by Diamond, two were for extra bases, Sullivan getting a triple in the fourth which helped Diamond to its lone run and Goodwin having a double.

BANCROFT-HICKEY LOSES TO WILSON TEN

The Bancroft-Hickey softball team failed to hold a 9-3 lead in their game with the Wilson team last night and lost out in a scoring bee, 13-11. The game was played on Leedom's field and was a Bristol Softball League match.

For the first three frames, Wilson's was blanked while Bancroft counted seven runs. At the end of the fifth, Bancroft had increased their lead to 11-3 and this was when the Wilson aggregation put on their hitting caps for in the sixth, seven runs scored and in their final turn with the stick the ultimate winners counted three more times to cop the verdict.

S. Naylor and Hertz with a pair of hits each led the winners but the deciding blow was a triple with two on base by Bernie Ussett in the final frame. Mellor, Wolvin, and DeWees had a pair of hits each for Bancroft.

BADENHAUSEN NINE JOLTS EDGELY; PAUL DEAN'S BAFFLING SLOW BALL PUZZLES THEM AND CAUSES UPSET

EDGELY, July 2—In the biggest upset of the season, the Badenhausen nine jolted the Edgely team, 3-1, last night as Paul Dean slow-balled the Edgely boys into submission with four hits. The game, a Bristol Suburban League affair, was played on the Edgely diamond.

Not only did the Badenhausen nine beat the Edgelyites but they succeeded in beating Howard Black, fast-ball artist of the first half champions. The winners made eight hits off Black and these were bunched in the second, fourth, and sixth innings to score the trio of markers.

While the Baddies were getting their hits off Black, the first-half champs had trouble in hitting the slow ball Dean was tossing plateward. The Edgely batters were continually popping up and until the last half of the seventh only two Edgely batters had connected safely.

It seemed as if trouble would brew in the final inning when with two gone, Linck and Manager DeKoyor hit singles. But Black with an opportunity of doing some real damage hit to the pitcher to close the book.

A two-bagger from the bat of Bill Leigh saved the Edgely club from a shut-out. Leigh's double came with two out and Doster on base in the first frame.

"Jimmy" Kelly and Barney Ludwig had two for two off the hurling of Black. Paul Dean drove in the first Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Hisey.
